Prefix and Course Number:	HUM 107
Course Title:	Introduction to Cultural Studies
Version Date:	03/25/2021

Course Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of the course, the student will be able to:

1. Analyze the beliefs and attitudes of U.S. culture—e.g. films, music, advertisements, fashion, sports, social media—and their impact.
2. Actively read popular culture to better recognize one’s position as both producer and consumer.
3. Apply multiple disciplinary and theoretical approaches, particularly those that consider how class, gender, sexuality, and race are represented in cultural texts.
4. Acknowledge that other’s perspectives about cultural texts can have equal validity and contribute to a richer, more diverse conversation.
5. Discuss the influence of U.S. popular culture throughout the world, while recognizing that other nations have their own popular cultures.
